

Free Writer's Seminar

Ever wanted to write a book?

Or a short story?

Please join the Southern Ohio Writers from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m., Saturday Nov. 5 at the Pump House Center for the Arts, 1 Enderline Circle, Chillicothe, Ohio for a day of seminars.

Topics will include self-publishing vs. traditional publishing; character development, dialog, world-building and other topics.

Bring a brown bag lunch and enjoy the company of other writers.*

We will provide bottled water.

Writer's group to host day-long seminar

The Southern Ohio Writers' Group will host a one day seminar on writing from 8:30 a.m. to 3 p.m., Saturday Nov. 5 at the Pump House Gallery. Local author Donald Ray Pollock will answer participant's questions during the lunch break.

The seminar is free to attend, but attendance is limited to 50 people. Tickets are available at <https://dgaskill.wixsite.com/sowriters/events/free-writers-seminar>.

Confirmed topics include:

- traditional publishing versus self-publishing,
- writing graphic novels and comics,
- effective dialogue
- world building
- character development
- plotting versus 'pantsing'

During lunch, there will be a question and answer period with Pollock over a brown bag lunch. Participants are asked to bring their own lunch. Bottled water will be provided.

Registration begins at 8:30 a.m. and will feature coffee and donuts.

The Southern Ohio Writer's Group started in 2014 and has been meeting at the Pump House for several years. The group has published five anthologies of their essays, poems and short stories. The ebooks are available on their website, <https://dgaskill.wixsite.com/sowriters>, as a free download.
